A Village Drops Into a Quarry.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.
PARIS, Oct. 26.—Dispatches from Perigueux, the capital of the department of Dordogne, state that a frightful accident occurred at Chancelade quarries near that town. While a large body of workmen were engaged in taking out stone the quarries suddenly fell in, destroying a village situated on the ground above the stone pits and killing a large number of persons and many were buried in the ruins.

LONDON, October 24.—In British politics matters have become extremely dull. Both parties seem to have become wearied of the tame public utterances of the minor leaders, and to have fallen into a state of indifference. This may continue for a fortnight. Prime Minister Salisbury will make a political address at the Mansion house banquet, in the second week of November. Mr. Gladstone will at once follow him, with two or three campaign speeches in Scotland. These orations will revive the fagged campaign, which it is thought, will thereafter be very lively and exciting.

Matters abroad have, however, become exceedingly interesting. The situation in the Balkan states is critical and is engrossing the attention of European statesmen. A majority of them fear that unless a speedy settlement of the imbroglio raised by Prince Alexander, be effected, the great powers will be drawn into a dangerous clash by their conflicting interests. The dispatches to-day from Vienna and Constantinople are significant and somewhat contradictory. From the Austrian capital came a statement that all doubts as to the action of the signatory powers to the treaty of Berlin, respecting the Roumelian difficulty, have been removed by the speech of the Emperor Francis Joseph, to-day, at a meeting of the "Delegation." This body is a parliament composed of 120 members, half of whom are chosen by Austria, and the other half by Hungary. The jurisdiction of the delegation is limited to foreign affairs and war. The emperor in addressing the delegation said: "The foreign relations of Austria are of the most friendly nature. The recent meeting of the emperors at Kremsier, clearly indicated to an unprejudiced mind that the and trustful relations of Russia, Germany and Austria still continued, which is a very important fact at this juncture, for the peace of Europe. The powers who join us will maintain the legal status of the Balkan states, guaranteed by the treaties of Berlin and San Stefano, as a basis for securing peace in the future. The unanimity of the powers on this point, is an important guarantee of the success of a peaceful solution of the Roumelian question. The signers of the treaty of Berlin seek to restore the status quo, which was so unexpectedly violated by the Roumelian design, endangering the peace and welfare of the people of the whole of the Balkan peninsula. Europe evidenced her respect for the treaties of San Stefano and Berlin by the confidence wherewith she gave the Balkan states independent existence. Europe's first care is to maintain peace among the nations of the East and protect the interests of the monarchy. Bosnia and Herzegovina make steady progress in an industrial and economic sense, and are able to pay for their own administration."

If the emperor's speech means anything, it means that Germany, Austria and Russia are united in a determination to secure the deposition of Prince Alexander, and a complete restoration of that state of affairs which existed in the Balkan states before the exaltation of the prince. Dispatches received this evening from Constantinople indicate that England will take a decided stand against the position announced for Germany, Austria and Russia, by the Emperor Francis Joseph.

The private utterances of all the powers have accepted the Porte's invitation to attend a conference to-day at the Turkish capital, upon the Balkan question and their representatives are all upon the ground. It is to-night stated unequivocally that the representative of England has been instructed by his government to make a motion in the conference, in favor of maintaining the union of Bulgaria and Roumelia, effected under Prince Alexander, and it is further declared that the representatives of France and Italy have been instructed by their governments to support England's motion.

If this motion be made, the conference will be at once divided, Germany, Austria and Russia arrayed against England, France and Italy. It is not worth while to conjecture how Turkey, the power chiefly concerned, will stand.

Her attitude will be decided by force. It is strongly suspected that England possesses such relations with the Porte, as to compel it to decide against Russia, and if that is accomplished, the difficulty would seem to be settled.

But the way matters stand at present, is, that in a conference called by Turkey, to take steps to settle a powerful revolution against her authority, the three empires of Europe are arrayed against England, France and Italy the triumvirate insisting on a formal return of the rebellious states to their former allegiance to the Porte, as a preliminary basis for the discussion and settlement of the question and the latter triumvirate insisting upon the acceptance of accomplished facts. To say the least of it, the situation is full of dangerous elements. In the meantime the situation in the Balkans grows more strained and turbulent.

Between Belgrade, the capital of Servia and the great entrepot of the trade between Austria and Turkey and Nissa, 130 miles distant, in Servia, the Railway traffic is already entirely suspended. The Orient express company of Vienna, announces it is compelled to cease the issue of through tickets beyond Pesth, in Hungary. The press correspondents have been forced to leave Nissa, and they report that the army contractors in that country, are working night and day making uniforms, every soldier being supplied with a pair of marching boots.

Sixteen thousand Servian soldiers are already massed on the frontier, ready to cross at a moment's notice. King Milan, the Servian ruler, in a note to Italy, explaining the military movement in his kingdom, declares, however, it is his intention to scrupulously adhere to the terms of the Constantinople conference.

Dispatches from Paris this evening, show that the French people are being again set, by their newspapers, against the government's disastrous colonial enterprises. The military organs take a particularly gloomy view of the French situation in both Tonquin and Madagascar. "The Progress Militaire" states that the government is sending to Tonquin ten men per regiment, to replace those French soldiers lost in that country by disease, and declares its opinion that the end of the whole French military enterprise in China, will be a disgraceful retreat. Disgust is so thorough with military men, that it has determined to have a division of the continuance or abandonment of the invasion of Madagascar, by the chamber of deputies.

Prince Bonaparte (Pion Pion) has issued another manifesto to his followers. In this he congratulates them for having held aloof from recent elections. He says at present the Monarchs are powerless to either secure the government of France, or to overthrow the republic. They are determined, however, he says to precipitate the state of revolution towards which he declares the country is drifting. "The Radicals are unable," to continue the manifesto, "to govern without the support of the Opportunists and a government so managed must end in dissolution. Only a strong persevering and united executive can assure the stability of the republic, which much either reform or perish. For these reasons, the Prince urges all good citizens to unite in upholding the Republic."

Among the visitors to General Grant's tomb yesterday was Col. Fred D. Grant with Cyrus W. Field and Archdeacon Farrar.

JUDGE BUCHWALTER.

Decides That the Clerk Shall Not Issue Certificates.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—Judge Buchwalter's little court room was crowded to its utmost capacity this morning by attorneys, candidates and citizens interested in the result of the legal proceedings before him in the consideration of the delivery of the certificates of election to the four candidates for senator from Hamilton county. The matter had been argued and submitted to him on a demurrer and on motion to dissolve the restraining order heretofore issued by him in favor of the four republican candidates on their petition. He rendered his decision at considerable length holding as to the demurser: First, that there was no misjoinder of parties, and that the four candidates could sue together or separately. Second, that the court had jurisdiction, not to declare who should hold the office, for that was clearly the province of the legislature upon a contest, but to declare who was entitled to a certificate, for that was a personal right separate from the title to the office. He also held that it was not necessary, in order to obtain the aid of the court to prevent irreparable injury, to do more than make out a prima facie case.

While in this case the averments of facts in the petition were insufficient, yet the plaintiffs were entitled to an amendment in that particular if necessary and in any case they were entitled to an order to stay the hand of the clerk until the merits of the case could be determined in another court. The injunction was therefore continued in force and the mandamus case involving the same points was taken up by the circuit court.

THE OFFICIAL MILL

The general government has, at the request of the governor of Michigan, resumed charge of inspection service on the northern frontier of that state. Surgeon Sawtelle, of the marine hospital services stationed at Detroit, has been instructed to superintend the service. The transfer is due principally to the insufficiency of the state appropriation.

GRANT-JOHNSON.

The Controversy Continues in the Press.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—C. C. McCabe, a Methodist clergyman, writes to the Herald that during the time that Grant persisted in holding on to the war office and refused to leave it for two or three weeks, Bishop Simpson called on him. When the Bishop arose to go Grant went before him and locked the door, saying: "Bishop, I regard the republic in more danger now than at any time during the war. I feel the need of divine help. I want you to pray with me." And the two patriots kneeled together in prayer to Almighty God for help in the hour of peril.

Among the visitors to General Grant's tomb yesterday was Col. Fred D. Grant with Cyrus W. Field and Archdeacon Farrar.

The British Sending Troops to Burnah.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 26.—Lord Dufferin, viceroy of India, has received orders from the home government for the immediate dispatch of troops to Burmah.

MADRAS, October 24.—One English regiment and two native regiments are about to embark for Burmah.

The following story about Mr. Bresson, president of the council of ministers, is being circulated in the French newspapers: "A magistrate at Saulzais being summarily and unjustly dismissed from office, by order of Mr. Bresson, appealed to Madame Bresson, the premier's mother, to intercede with her son, for his (the magistrate's) reinstatement. The lady replied frankly and impudently, telling the magistrate she had lost all influence over her son; that four years ago he had broken all relationship with the members of her family. "He still," wrote Madame Bresson, "holds himself a stranger toward us, to our great grief. He allowed his father to die without visiting him and although he attended his father's funeral, he totally ignored all other members of the family." The magistrate of Saulzais, lost no time in revenging himself upon Bresson by making the contents of his mother's condemnation of him, public.

Prince Bismarck has invited all the members of his family to participate in a grand family reunion at the Hotel Nord, in Berlin, October 30.

RIFLE TELEGRAMS.

NEW YORK, October 24.—A Washington special to the Post says: The president stated to a gentleman whom he called into consultation yesterday, that he will rigidly adhere to his civil service reform policy, whatever may happen in or out of his party, and that he is confident that ultimately the country will approve his course. Of one thing he is sure; that neither political party can openly espouse any policy which is antagonistic to the civil service policy.

NEW YORK, October 24.—The Cleveland & Hendrick's War Veterans' Association, has sent a request to the president asking him to observe the law in reference to the appointment of soldiers to office and they particularly urge that in the event of removal of a Republican soldier from office, a Democratic soldier shall be appointed to the vacancy.

NEW YORK, October 25.—One of the steamers Niagara's yellow fever patients is dead and the other two not expected to live.

DES MOINES, October 24.—Reports from Fort Dodge indicate that a fatal disease, not cholera, is killing off hogs with frightful rapidity in Webster county. The animals are attacked with a cough and in day or two are dead.

CLEVELAND, October 24.—A call was issued to-day for a state convention of coal miners to be held in Columbus, November 3d. The question of asking for an advance of 10 cents per ton in mining wages, and other matters, will be considered.

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyoming, October 24.—All reports of the recent raid upon the Chinese here, are sensational and untrue.

NEW YORK, October 24.—W. E. Beach, of Cadillac, Mich., came here two days ago, and fell into the hands of sawdust swindlers, who fleeced him out of $1,000. The police arrested James Kelly, alias Nills, who was identified to-day by Mr. Beach, as one of the men who had swindled him.

THE late Gov. Coburn, of Maine, left a fortune of about $2,000,000. He was never married. Scores of girls wove their nets for him, but he eluded capture. One day he saw a poor girl, and she was so attractive and agreeable in her manners that he became smitten with her. Subsequently he made up his mind to marry her after he found that his affection was reciprocated. This so overjoyed the poor girl's family that they babbled about the coming marriage with the rich man. The babbling reached his ears and he was displeased. He broke off the engagement, and never thought more of woman and her wife.

A FATAL FIGHT.

Between Illicit Whisky Men and Citizens.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 26.—A dash from Tracy City, Grundy county, gives the details of a bloody encounter between a party of illicit distillers and citizens. W. F. Hobbs and Calvin Tipton were arrested for selling wild cat whisky in the woods near that town. There are no federal officers at that place and the men were tried before a civil magistrate and acquitted. They at once drove the wagon and barrel of whisky a short distance from town and began selling again and considerable drunkenness was the result. Later in the night, Jeff and Bill Smith and Dave Baker went to the camp and gave the "wild cats" a severe beating. Early yesterday morning Tipton and Hobbs borrowed some guns with the avowed purpose of killing Baker and the others. They went to Baker's house and called him out but before Tipton could shoot Baker wrenched the gun from Hobbs, and wheeling fired it at Tipton. Both guns were discharged simultaneously and Baker severely. Some of the participants were caught, but Hobbs escaped to his home at North Cutts cave.

Father, Mother, and Three Sisters Dead.

Mr. David Claypool, formerly Sergeant-at-Arms of the New Jersey Senate, and now Notary Public at Cedarville, Cumberland Co., N.J., makes the following startling statement: "My father, mother, and three sisters all died with consumption, and my lungs were so weak I raised blood. Nobody thought I could live. My work (shipsmithing) was very straining on me with my weak constitution, and I was rapidly going to the grave. While in this condition I commenced using Mishler's Herb Bitters, and it saved my life. Because it was so difficult to get it in this little place, and I had improved so much, I stopped taking it for a time, and the result is that I have commenced going rapidly down hill again. Somehow, Mishler's Herb Bitters gives appetite and strengthens and builds me up as nothing else does, and I must have a dozen bottles at once. Use this communication as you please, and if any one wants to be convinced of its truth, let them write me and I will make affidavit to it, for I owe my life to Mishler's Herb Bitters."

The secret of the almost invariable relief and cure of consumption, dysentery, diarrhea, dyspepsia, indigestion, kidney and liver complaints, when Mishler's Herb Bitters is used, is that it contains simple, harmless, and yet powerful ingredients, that act on the blood, kidneys, and liver, and through them strengthens and invigorates the whole system. Purely vegetable in its composition; prepared by a regular physician; a standard medicinal preparation; endorsed by physicians and druggists. These are four strong points in favor of Mishler's Herb Bitters. Mishler's Herb Bitters is sold by all druggists. Price $1.00 per large bottle. 6 bottles for $5.00.

MONDAY, OCT. 26, 1885.

WARSAW, Ind., has commenced work on its new water works system.

The Marion Democrat says: "The Fort Wayne SENTINEL is one of the best papers in the west."

A NEW HAVEN man has sent a check for $2,500 to D. L. Moody, to be used in his work as an evangelist.

At Chicago in ten days the special delivery messengers handled 2,747 letters,

THERE ARE NOW 1,200 cases on the docket of the United States supreme court, which the judges hope to clear by 1888.

THE Iroquois club, of Chicago, has concluded to have its banquet March 4, 1886, the anniversary of Cleveland's inauguration.

HON. ELI W. BROWN, postmaster of Columbia City, is already mentioned in connection with the democratic nomination for auditor of state next year.

LA PORTE, Ind., is moving in the proper way to have her chain of lakes connected by a navigable canal. It is estimated that $25,000 will be needed to accomplish the work, and committees have been appointed to solicit subscriptions.

THE Indianapolis Journal speaks in very complimentary terms of the appointment of Judge Long to the chief justiceship of New Mexico. Judge Long is one of the most acceptable men in the west and THE SENTINEL is proud of his promotion.

THE Indianapolis Times says: "Senators Voorhees and Congressman Lowry, of this state, are making speeches in Maryland. Senator Gorman is scared and calling for help. The reform movement in that state is making sad havoc with its fences."

THAT eloquent champion of free trade, Hon. Frank H. Hurd, of Toledo, feels so indignant over the course of the liquor clerk in voting with the republicans, that he favors the imposition of a thousand and dollar tax on every saloon in the Buckeye commonwealth.

SENATOR VOORHEES pronounces the statement that friendly relations between himself and President Cleveland have been disturbed on account of certain Indiana appointments, as wholly and unqualifiedly false, and that their relations have never been more friendly than they are at present.

HON. A. P. EDGERTON, of Fort Wayne, is named and will be presented by his friends for the vacant place on the civil service commission. If Mr.
Edgerton would accept the place it ought to be given him. No better appointment could be made," says the Richmond Palladium, a republican paper.

THE city council should certainly accept the old Broadway cemetery from Hon. Hugh McCulloch. It will make a pretty park and is a disgrace in its present shape. Mr. McCulloch expects the removal only of bodies marked by tombstones. The other graves can be covered with flowers and shrubbery and the grounds beautified with walks and seats.

AN OLD physician of Buffalo, N.Y., who had lost his windpipe, larynx, and the power of speech from the effects of cancer, has had a silver tube inserted in his throat, and is now able to articulate sufficiently well to be understood.
His tone of voice, however, is always the same, and it is produced by a reed which is fixed in the end of the silver windpipe. It required six weeks of experimenting for the surgeon to achieve this result.

THE Indianapolis News says: "The appointment of Judge Elisha V. Long, of Warsaw, to be chief justice of New Mexico, vice Vincent, removed, is announced. His appointment was secured through the influence of Representative Lowry and State Senator Bell, of Fort Wayne. Mr. Long has been judge of circuit Court at Warsaw for thirteen years, and his term has just expired.

Judge Winfield, of Logansport, and Mr.
Pollard, of Delphi, were his competitors."

RECOGNITION is being made in a variety of directions of the principle that the legal rules ordinarily applied to strictly private enterprises and properties, are not applicable without limitation to enterprises and properties in the conduct of which the public has a more or less clearly defined interest.
For example, the right of a party to a private suit to attach a passenger train, thus causing inconvenience to a number of persons not interested in the controversy, has been limited by statute.
A recent instance of the recognition of the principle referred to is mentioned in a Boston letter to the Albany Law Journal. The forms of a newspaper were attached at the instance of an attorney who considered himself aggrieved by strictures made in the preceding issue of the paper. The attachment was made just before midnight, when it was impossible to give a bond to dissolve the attachment; the officer refused to allow the forms to be used, and the result was that the paper was distributed to its patrons next morning printed on one side only, one half of the form having previously been prepared, and in the hands of the printer, before the attachment was made. To provide against the recurrence of any such inconvenience as was caused to the public in this instance, the last Legislature of Massachusetts passed an act providing that no attachment can be made of the forms of a newspaper when ready for the press.
This act does not do away with the right of attachment against the property of newspapers, but introduces the principle that such right must not be exercised as to work inconvenience to the public. ATTACHMENT schools of the manner of the olden time are likely to be fashionable this winter. Already they have been organized in many places. It is not much credit to be a good speller, but very discreditable not to spell well.

It is well for young people to remember this. Many a youth has lost a good-paying situation, and many a young man has lost the chance of the best wife by failing to make a study of his spelling-book and dictionary when young. There is no place where bad spelling looks worse than in a love letter. A badly-spelled love-letter, written by either a young lady or gentleman, will spoil a hundred romantic tete-a-tetes by moonlight, and took the whole case up in chancery.

THE Due d'Aumale travels nearly always in a reserved carriage, and is generally attended by a secretary and some couriers. "He rarely misses coming to town Fridays, when he is at the seat of the Condes," writes a Paris gossip, "and he goes once a week in the season to the opera. A lady joins him there. As his box is on a level with the pit and in the shade, it is not easy to identify her. The letters 'L. L.' are on the panels of the coupe that awaits her, and into which, with her head closely muffled, she rapidly gets when the representation is over.
Though she walks quickly, her step has not the lightness of 20, which it almost had, when, seventeen years ago, Leonide Letibanc played the part of the Duke of Alba's daughter at Brussels in "La Patrie."

THE oak tree planted by Lord Newstead Abbey is large and flourishing, although the alder on which he cut the names of "Byron and Augusta" long since died. The portion of the tree on which the names were carved is preserved among the treasured mementos of the poet in the Abbey. The tree planted by Dr. Livingstone is on the lawn, as well as the one planted by Stanley. The present owner of Newstead was the one white friend and bosom companion of Livingstone during his years of wonderful work in Africa. This Col. Webb, who brought the Abbey of Col. Wildman, the wealthy West Indian planter who brought it to New York. Then he handed me the $5 bill I had loaned him. I stamped him a ticket and gave him $1.40 in change. He put it in his pocket.
A few minutes afterward he got aboard the train for New York, and I have never seen him since." Did he ever pay you the $5 back, Uncle Lew?" Not yet," said Uncle Lew, "and the tannery has been turned into a clothes-pin factory."

THE wife of a well-known citizen of Chicago, on a recent morning, soon after rising, and while still engaged in dressing, asked her husband: "Do you know anybody named Edsall or Edsdale?" A negative reply was given and then a "Why do you ask?" She answered: "Because I dreamed that a man of that name was found drowned."
At the breakfast table the morning paper was read, and in one of the items of news was the announcement of the disappearance of a young man named Edsall, and whose remains some ten days later, were found in the lake. This is a bona-fide occurrence, just as related.
Neither the husband nor wife had ever heard of the name, and the first time they ever saw it was in the announcement of the mysterious disappearance of a person who bore it. Is this merely a singular coincidence, or is it connected with a clairvoyance which perceives events and things beyond the reach of the average human vision?

THE Tampa (Florida) Tribune says: Tom Williams' bay mule, which has been at work on the railroad at Blue Spring, was allowed to graze on the grass point across the mouth of the Blue Spring Creek, and after a while, lay down on this point to rest, with its back to the river. Only a few minutes elapsed before an immense alligator was seen to dash out of the river, its jaws stretched to its utmost, and as he came within reach, the teeth of the alligator were buried in the poor mule's^s flesh just at the rear of the shoulder blades. In the scramble that ensued the lower jaw, it is supposed, was broken and the shoulder blades of the mule were left bare. An alligator was seen going into the water with his jaw swinging, and Tom Williams is unfortunately in the loss of a very fine mule.

AN OLD physician of Buffalo, N.Y., who had lost his windpipe, larynx, and
the power of speech from the effects of
in his throat, and is now able to articulate
sufficiently well to be understood.
His tone of voice, however, is always
the same, and it is produced by a reed
which is fixed in the end of the silver windpipe. It required six weeks of experimenting for the surgeon to achieve
this result.

"I have no appetite," complains many a sufferer. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives an appetite and enables the stomach to perform its duty.

WATER springs, it seems, are more than ordinarily liable to break during the equinoctial season. A prominent Philadelphia jeweler said recently:
"We sometimes have such a pile of watches come in upon us when the equinoctial storms make their appearance that we are compelled to send around to the smaller shops and pay premiums—and big premiums at that —for a journeyman or so for a couple of days."

THE Glen (Kansas) Herald tells this pleasant story: "At Wakefield, Clay County, a boy discovered a pig taking an ear of corn in his mouth and then trot off toward the creek. This operation was repeated so often that it excited the boy's curiosity, and he followed the pig. What was his surprise to find at or near the creek another pig which was sick and unable to walk, and pig No. 1 had been taking food to the sick companion."

THIS country is now experiencing a decline in immigration, though during the past five years showing the amazing aggregate of 2,968,158. The course of immigration follows closely the business history of this country. News of hard times frightens away our future citizens, while active business and eras of high prices attract them. Nearly 400,000 immigrants arrived on our shores during the past twelve months.
About two-thirds of our immigrants come from Germany and Great Britain.

SPELLING schools of the manner of the olden time are likely to be fashionable this winter. Already they have been organized in many places. It is not much credit to be a good speller,
but very discreditable not to spell well.
It is well for young people to remember this. Many a youth has lost a good-paying situation, and many a young man has lost the chance of the best wife by failing to make a study of his spelling-book and dictionary when
young. There is no place where bad spelling looks worse than in a love
letter. A badly-spelled love-letter, written by either a young lady or
gentleman, will spoil a hundred romantic
tete-a-tetes by moonlight, and took the whole case up in chancery.

THE Due d'Aumale travels nearly
always in a reserved carriage, and is generally attended by a secretary and
some couriers. "He rarely misses
coming to town Fridays, when he is at the seat of the Condes," writes a Paris gossip, "and he goes once a week in the season to the opera. A lady joins him there. As his box is on a level with the pit and in the shade, it is not easy to identify her. The letters 'L. L.' are on the panels of the coupe that awaits
her, and into which, with her head closely muffled, she rapidly gets
when the representation is over.
Though she walks quickly, her step
has not the lightness of 20, which
it almost had, when, seventeen years ago, Leonide Letibanc played the part of the Duke of Alba's daughter at Brussels in "La Patrie."

THE oak tree planted by Lord Newstead Abbey is large and flourishing, although the alder on which he cut the names of "Byron and Augusta" long since died. The portion of the tree on which the names
were carved is preserved among the
treasured mementos of the poet in the Abbey. The tree planted by Dr. Livingstone is on the lawn, as well as the one planted by Stanley. The present owner of Newstead was the one white
friend and bosom companion of Livingstone during his years of wonderful
work in Africa. This Col. Webb, who brought the Abbey of Col. Wildman, the wealthy West Indian planter who brought it to New York. Then he handed me the $5 bill I had loaned
him. I stamped him a ticket and gave him $1.40 in change. He put it in his pocket.
A few minutes afterward he got aboard
the train for New York, and I have never seen him since." Did he ever pay you the $5 back, Uncle Lew?"
Not yet," said Uncle Lew, "and the tannery has been turned into a clothes-
pin factory."

THE wife of a well-known citizen of Chicago, on a recent morning, soon
after rising, and while still engaged in dressing, asked her husband: "Do
you know anybody named Edsall or Edsdale?" A negative reply was given and then a "Why do you ask?" She answered: "Because I dreamed that a man of that name was found drowned."
At the breakfast table the morning
paper was read, and in one of the items
of news was the announcement of the disappearance of a young man named Edsall, and whose remains some ten days later, were found in the lake. This is a bona-fide occurrence, just as related.
Neither the husband nor wife had ever
heard of the name, and the first time they ever saw it was in the announcement of the mysterious disappearance
of a person who bore it. Is this merely
a singular coincidence, or is it connected with a clairvoyance which perceives events and things beyond the reach of the average human vision?

MISSING MONEY.

Newspaper Slips Substituted for $4,000 in an Express Package—A Queer Case.

A. P. Craig, of Omo, Wis., purchased a farm near Wallen, from Henry McLaren. He returned home and sent his brother, Matthew Craig, to take charge of the property. His brother was to send on $4,000 to complete the purchase and equip the rural home. Craig called for the money Saturday afternoon. The package which was received here on the 22d was handed him. It was shipped from Chippewa Falls, Wis., which is the most convenient railroad point to Omo, and left the former point on the 20th or 21st. Mr. Craig received for the package, which was supposed to contain about $4,000 and was opened in the presence of W. P. Chapman, the express agent and George Torrence, the real estate agent, who made the sale of the farm and identified Craig as the proper man to receive the money. When it was opened it contained slips of paper cut from a Milwaukee Sentinel of October 19. This was a surprise, of course, and Mr. Craig was mighty glad he did not go away without opening the package although he put it in his pocket and proceeded to the door to do so, until Mr. Torrence insisted on a count. The theory advanced at this end of the route is that Mr. Craig handed the money to another party to express, and that it was never expressed. This is supported by the fact that a common envelope addressed in what is supposed to be Mr. Craig's writing inclosed all the papers, and this envelope had been opened at the end, then doubled over and placed in a regular money envelope of the express company, and was regularly sealed at four places with the standard stamp of the company at Chippewa Falls.

A Trio of Toughs Take an East End Saloon

Frank Lonsberry, Henry Babbitt and Frank Laufer were at Kugelman's saloon, near the old mattress factory, on East Wayne street, last night. They turned out the lights and in the language of the slums "took" the place. They also took all the liquor they could swallow and by way of variety carried away two boxes of cigars. The police were notified and the young men named above were run in. Lonsberry was held for trial in the sum of $200 and the other two were sent over on a charge of drunkenness. It may go hard with them and Prosecutor Dawson has the matter. His touch is fatal every time.

Shipments of flour decreased 2,540 tons; those of grain decreased 12,529, and those of provisions decreased 1,548 tons. ELECTA'S RACKET.

The Missing Mrs. Horen Believed to be at Peru—Her Mama on the Search.

The mystery that has shrouded the disappearance of Mrs. Horen, from Logansport, is beginning to grow less dense. Saturday night Mrs. Evans, the mother of the missing woman, and George Damer, of Fort Wayne, arrived in that city, and were busy making inquiries as to the probable whereabouts of the distressed person. Marshal Owston has been working on the case with some degree of success. It is now believed by the officers, mother and friends that Electa Horen did not take her own life but is still alive. One clue leading to this conclusion is the positive statement of Frank Clark, ticket agent at the Wabash depot, that a woman answering the description of that given Mrs. Horen, boarded the eastbound train Wednesday morning at 10:15 o'clock. The information in the Logansport Pharos on Wednesday, that Mrs. Horen was not seen to board the train, was not direct from the agent, but by telephone, and not reliable. It is almost certain that Electa did not do what she said she would in her letter, but went on the Wabash train to Peru. The Pharos reporter and Marshal Owston went down to Mrs. Rogers' home, on Durst street, and met Mrs. Evans. She appears a very pleasant lady, and feels much concern about the whereabouts of her daughter, but since later developments, feels confident that her daughter is still alive. Both she and Mrs. Rogers related their reason for believing that Mrs. Horen was in Peru.

A French Village Drops Into the Deep Stone Quarry Pits Below It.

The Populace and the Quarry Workmen are Buried in the Awful Heap.

The British Government Orders Its Troops Sent to Burmah for Prompt War.

WENT DOWN.

A Village Drops Into a Quarry.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.
PARIS, Oct. 26.—Dispatches from Perigueux, the capital of the department of Dordogne, state that a frightful accident occurred at Chancelade quarries near that town. While a large body of workmen were engaged in taking out stone the quarries suddenly fell in, destroying a village situated on the ground above the stone pits and killing a large number of persons and many are buried in the ruins.

LONDON, October 24.—In British politics matters have become extremely dull. Both parties seem to have become wearied of the tame public utterances of the minor leaders, and to have fallen into a state of indifference. This may continue for a fortnight. Prime Minister Salisbury will make a political address at the Mansion house banquet, in the second week of November, and Mr. Gladstone will at once follow him, with two or three campaign speeches in Scotland. These orations will revive the lagged campaign, which it is thought, will thereafter be very lively and exciting.

Matters abroad have, however, become exceedingly interesting. The situation in the Balkan states is critical and is engrossing the attention of European statesmen. A majority of them fear that unless a speedy settlement of the imbroglio raised by Prince Alexander, be effected, the great powers will be drawn into a dangerous clash by their conflicting interests. The disputes to-day from Vienna and Constantinople are significant and somewhat contradictory. From the Austrian capital came a statement that all doubts as to the action of the signatory powers to the treaty of Berlin respecting the Roumelian difficulty, have been removed by the speech of the Emperor Francis Joseph, to-day, at a meeting of the "Delegation." This body is a parliament composed of 120 members, half of whom are chosen by Austria, and the other half by Hungary. The jurisdiction of the delegation is limited to foreign affairs and war. The emperor, in addressing the delegation, said: "The foreign relations of Austria are of the most friendly nature. The recent meeting of the emperors at Kremsier, clearly indicated to an unprejudiced mind that the and trustful relations of Russia, Germany and Austria still continued, which is a very important fact at this juncture, for the peace of Europe. The powers who join us will maintain the legal status of the Balkan states, guaranteed by the treaties of Berlin and San Stefano, as a basis for securing peace in the future. The unanimity of the powers on this point, is an important guarantee of the success of a peaceful solution of the Roumelian question. The signers of the treaty of Berlin seek to restore the status quo, which was so unexpectedly violated by the Roumelian design, endangering the peace and welfare of the people of the whole of the Balkan peninsula. Europe evidenced her respect for the treaties of San Stefano and Berlin by the confidence wherewith she gave the Balkan states independent existence. Europe's first care is to maintain peace among the nations of the East and protect the interests of the monarchy. Bosnia and Herzegovina make steady progress in an industrial and economic sense, and are able to pay for their own administration."

If the emperor's speech means anything, it means that Germany, Austria and Russia are united in a determination to secure the deposition of Prince Alexander, and a complete restoration of that state of affairs which existed in the Balkan states before the elevation of the prince. Dispatches received this evening from Constantinople indicate that England will take a decided stand against the position announced for Germany, Austria and Russia, by the Emperor Francis Joseph.

The private interview of all the powers have accepted the Porte's invitation to attend a conference to-day at the Turkish capital, upon the Balkan question and their representatives are all upon the ground. It is tonight stated unequivocally that the representative of England has been instructed by his government to make a motion in the conference in favor of maintaining the union of Bulgaria and Roumelia, effected under Prince Alexander, and it is further declared that the representatives of France and Italy have been instructed by their governments to support England's motion. If this motion be made, the conference will be at once divided, Germany, Austria and Russia arrayed against England, France and Italy. It is not worth while to conjecture how Turkey, the power chiefly concerned, will stand. Her attitude will be decided by force. It is strongly suspected that England possesses such relations with the Porte, as to compel it to decide against Russia, and if that is accomplished, the difficulty would seem to be settled. But the way matters stand at present, is that in a conference called by Turkey, to take steps to settle a powerful revolution against her authority, the three empires of Europe are arrayed against England, France and Italy the triumvirate insisting on a formal return of the rebellious states to their former allegiance to the Porte, as a preliminary basis for the discussion and settlement of the question and the latter triumvirate insisting upon the acceptance of accomplished facts. To say the least of it, the situation is full of dangerous elements. In the meantime the situation in the Balkans grows more strained and turbulent. Between Belgrade, the capital of Serbia and the great entrepot of the trade between Austria and Turkey and Nissa, 130 miles distant, in Serbia, the railway traffic is already entirely suspended. The Orient express company of Vienna announces it is compelled to cease the issue of through tickets beyond Pesth, in Hungary. The press correspondents have been forced to leave Nissa, and they report that the army contractors in that country, are working night and day making uniforms, every soldier being supplied with a pair of marching boots. Sixteen thousand Serbian soldiers are already massed on the frontier, ready to cross at a moment's notice. King Milan, the Serbian ruler, in a note to Italy, explaining the military movement in his kingdom, declares, however, it is his intention to scrupulously adhere to the terms of the Constantinople conference.

Dispatches from Paris this evening, show that the French people are being again set by their newspapers against the government's disastrous colonial enterprises. The military organs take a particularly gloomy view of the French situation in both Tonquin and Madagascar. "The Progress Militaire" states that the government is sending to Tonquin ten men per regiment, to replace those French soldiers lost in that country by disease, and declares its opinion that the end of the whole French military enterprise in China, will be a disgraceful retreat. Disgust is so thorough with military men, that it has determined to have a division of the corps or abandonment of the invasion of Madagascar, by the chamber of deputies.

Prince Bonaparte (Flou-Pion) has issued another manifesto to his followers. In this he congratulates them for having had aloof from recent elections. He says at present the Monarchs are powerless to either secure the government of France, or to overthrow the republic. They are determined, however, to seize to precipitate the state of revolution towards which he decares the country is drifting. "The Radicals are unable," to continue the manifesto, "to govern without the support of the Opportunists and a government so managed must end in dissolution. Only a strong persevering and united executive can assure the stability of the republic, which much either reform or perish. For these reasons, the Prince urges all good citizens to unite in upholding the Republic."

Decides That the Clerk Shall Not Issue Certificates.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—Judge Buchwalter's little court room was crowded to its utmost capacity this morning by attorneys, candidates and citizens interested in the result of the legal proceedings before him in the consideration of the delivery of the certificates of election to the four candidates for senator from Hamilton county. The matter had been argued and submitted to him on a demurrer and on motion to dissolve the restraining order heretofore issued by him in favor of the four republican candidates on their petition. He rendered his decision at considerable length holding as to the demurser: First, that there was no majority of parties, and that the four candidates could come together or separately. Second, that the court had jurisdiction, not to declare who should hold the office, for that was clearly the province of the legislature upon a contest, but to declare who was entitled to a certificate, for that was a personal right separate from the title to the office. He also held that it was not necessary, in order to obtain the aid of the court to prevent irreparable injury, to do more than make out a pro forma case. While in this case the averments of facts in the petition were insufficient, yet the plaintiffs were entitled to an award in that particular if necessary and in any case they were entitled to an order to stay the hand of the clerk until the merits of the case could be determined in another court. The injunction was therefore continued in force and the mandamus case involving the same points was taken up by the circuit court.

GRANT-JOHNSON.

The Controversy Continues in the Press.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—C. C. McCabe, a Methodist clergyman, writes to the World that during the time that Grant persisted in holding on to the war office and refused to leave it for two or three weeks, Bishop Simpson called on him. When the Bishop arose to go, Grant said: "Bishop, I regard the republic in more danger now than at any time during the war. I feel the need of divine help. I want you to pray with me." And the two patriots knelled together in prayer to Almighty God for help in the hour of peril.

Among the visitors to General Grant's tomb yesterday were Col. Fred D. Grant with Cyrus W. Field and Archdeacon Farrar.

The following story about Mr. Brownson, president of the council of ministers, is being circulated in the French newspapers: "A magistrate at Saulx-aux-Bois being summarily and unjustly dismissed from office by order of Mr. Brownson, appealed to Madame Bresson, the premier's mother, to intercede with her son, for his (the magistrate's) reinstatement. The lady replied frankly and i apudently, telling the magistrate she had lost all influence over her son; that four years ago he had broken all relationship with the members of her family. 'He still,' wrote Madame Bresson, 'holds himself a stranger toward us, to our great grief. He allowed his father to die without visiting him and although he attended his father's funeral, he totally ignored all other members of the family.' The magistrate of Saulx-aux-Bois, lost no time in revenging himself upon Brownson by making the contents of his mother's condemnation of him, public.

Prince Bismarck has invited all the members of his family to participate in a grand family reunion at the Hotel Nord, in Berlin, October 30.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

New York, October 24.—A Washington special to the Post says: The president stated to a gentleman whom he called into consultation yesterday, that he will rigidly adhere to his civil service reform policy, whatever may happen in or out of his party, and that he is confident that ultimately the country will approve his course. Of one thing he is sure: that neither political party can openly espouse any policy which is antagonistic to the civil service policy.

The late Gow, Colonist, of Maine, left a fortune of about $2,000,000. He was never married. Scores of girls wove their nets for him, but he eluded capture. One day he saw a poor girl, and she was so attractive and agreeable in her manners that he became smitten with her. Subsequently he made up his mind to marry her, after he found that his affection was reciprocated. Thus so overpassed the poor girl's family that they babbled about the coming marriage with the rich man. The babbler reached his ears, and he was displeased. He broke off the engagement, and never thought more of woman and her wiles.

Between Illicit Whisky Men and Citizens.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 26.—A dispatch from Tracy City, Grundy county, gives the details of a bloody encounter between a party of illicit distillers and citizens. W. F. Hobbs and Calvin Tipton were arrested for selling wild cat whisky in the woods near that town. There are no federal officers at that place and the men were tried before a civil magistrate and acquitted. They at once drove the wagon and barrel of whisky a short distance from town and began selling again and considerable drunkenness was the result. Later in the night, Jeff and Bill Smith and Dave Baker went to the camp and gave the "wild cats" a severe beating. Early yesterday morning Tipton and Hobbs borrowed some guns with the avowed purpose of killing Baker and the others. They went to Baker's house and called him out but before Tipton could shoot Baker wrenched the gun from Hobbs, and wheeling fired it at Tipton. Both guns were discharged simultaneously. Tipton falling mortally wounded and Baker severely. Some of the participants were caught, but Hobbs escaped to his home at North Cutts cave. A sad mistake.

MURDERED BY BURGLARS

A Well Known "Sport" Killed for Aiding in Bringing Criminals to Justice.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

DETROIT, Michigan, October 24.—

The body of a man, thought to be Donald Muir, of Port Huron, was found dead on third street just after midnight. There were marks of violence on the body and a bullet hole on the left side of the head; pockets turned inside out and a watch and chain broken and other evidences of robbery. A revolver, with one chamber empty, was found at his feet. The man had evidently fought hard and had been killed for the sake of robbery.

The man who was murdered just after midnight last night was Donald Ewer, a sporting man from Port Huron. He had with him $2,500 in money and two $400 dollar notes, besides other papers, all of which were taken by the murderers. Ewer has been instrumental in bringing several burglars to justice, and it is thought that spite was one of the motives for the death.

THE PURITY OF THE BALLOT.

Senator Sherman's Speech at Washington.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—Senator John Sherman was to-night tendered a serenade by his friends of this city. The Marine band furnished the music and a large crowd was present. The Senator was introduced by Ben Butterworth and spoke for half an hour. The purity of the ballot was the principal theme of his discourse. He declared that every national election since 1860 had been tainted with fraud and terrorism and asserted that last year, by an unlawful combination and fraud, Cleveland had been elected president of the United States, when if there had been a fair vote and a fair count, James G. Blaine would have been chosen. The speaker dwelt at some length on the elections in Ohio and charged the Democrats with perpetrating frauds against the purity of the ballot. He believed congress should pass wise election laws, to govern the election of congressmen, the presidential elections and to protect the colored man in the south in the right of suffrage.

For English co-operative societies have transacted a business during the past twenty years amounting to $1,400,000. The profits were $100,000. There are 1,251 societies, with about 700,000 members, representing heads of families, making in all 2,750,000 people. The sales for the year 1882 were $130,000,000; profits, $10,000,000; capital, $10,000,000. The increase of capital in ten years was 160 per cent. The co-operative manual which furnishes these figures goes into a vast amount of detail to show the operation of these societies. The movement took its present shape in 1864, when the membership was 17,500. In four years the membership was 75,000; in seven years, 115,000. The movement took wholesale proportions very early. In 1883 the dry goods branch of the business involved a capital of $1,000,000. Furniture was dealt in, but agencies were opened in Ireland, and houses were opened in Hamburg and Copenhagen for the transaction of business. The societies have now their own fleet. They have agencies in New York, where in one year over $100,000,000 was handled. They have depots at Liverpool, Manchester and elsewhere, and they manage their own property. They make crackers, bread and shoes, and soaps. They do much of their own milling, and are every year expanding their operations in a manner which shows that there is ability in the working classes when it is properly selected to manage their own affairs.

The "cold" has received a terrible set-back in Georgia. Two young men named Thomas and Roberts had long been paying attention to the daughter of a wealthy farmer. The girl so divested her favors that neither could tell which was the favored suitor. Finally the rivals got to the fighting point and agreed upon a private duel with shot-guns. They retired to a secluded spot, marked off the ground, and were about to fire, when Roberts lowered his gun and said: "If you will give me a suit of clothes you may have the girl and be hanged." The proposal was accepted, and now Thomas is in full possession.

JUDGE GEORGE H. BACHELIER, of the International Tribunal at Cairo, who has just returned to this country, says that General Gordon had but few friends in Cairo, cared for nobody but himself and had the same disregard for death as the Orientals, among whom he had spent so many years. He was extremely poor, but with it all was bloody and ruled those around him with an iron hand. He would have made the Soudan groan with his despotism if fate had not stopped his career in Khartoum.

A VERY elaborate and impressive service in memory of Gen Grant was recently held in the hall of Congress in the City of Mexico. There was a beautiful stage-setting in one end of the hall, one side of which was a deserted battlefield, with the soldiers lying around in confusion, and on the other side was the same field in time of peace. In the center was a magnificent funeral pyre, with funeral fires burning around it. The building was packed with Mexicans and American visitors.

MRS. HENDRIKS, the New Jersey woman who took a little girl from a Philadelphia orphan asylum, promising to be a mother to her, and who fulfilled her promise by tying the child up by the thumbs, and by beating, roasting, and starving her until she was injured for life, has been tried and convicted. The tender-hearted jury could not do otherwise than find the woman guilty, but recommended her to the mercy of the court. The court, after taking the matter under advisement, sentenced Mrs. Hendriks to imprisonment for ten years, with fine and costs amounting to one thousand dollars. What the sentence would have been had the Judge not tempered justice with mercy the yearning mother of orphans is left to conjecture.

MISSING MONEY.

A. P. Craig, of Omo, Wis., purchased a farm near Wallen, from Henry McClaren. He returned home and sent his brother, Matthew Craig, to take charge of the property. His brother was to send on $4,000 to complete the purchase and equip the rural home. Craig called for the money Saturday afternoon. The package which was received here on the 22d was handed him. It was shipped from Chippewa Falls, Wis., which is the most convenient railroad point to Omo, and left the former point on the 20th or 21st. Mr. Craig received for the package, which was supposed to contain about $4,000 and was opened in the presence of W. P. Chapman, the express agent and George Torrence, the real estate agent, who made the sale of the farm and identified Craig as the proper man to receive the money. When it was opened it contained slips of paper cut from a Milwaukee Advertiser of October 19. This was a surprise, of course, and Mr. Craig was mighty glad he did not go away without opening the package although he put it in his pocket and proceeded to the door to do so, until Mr. Torrence insisted on a count. The theory advanced at this end of the route is that Mr. Craig handed the money to another party to express, and that it was never expressed. This is supported by the fact that a common envelope addressed in what is supposed to be Mr. Craig's writing inclosed all the papers, and this envelope had been opened at the end, then double-locked and placed in a regular money envelope of the express company, and was regularly sealed at four places with the standard stamp of the company at Chippewa Falls.

The police were notified and the young men named above were run in. Lounsbury was held for trial in the sum of $200 and the other two were sent over on a charge of drunkenness. It may go hard with them and Prosecutor Dawson has the matter. His touch is fatal every time.

ELECTOR'S RACKET.

The Missing Mrs. Horan Believed to be at Peru. Her Mania on the Search.

The mystery that has shrouded the disappearance of Mrs. Horan, from Logansport, is beginning to grow less dense. Saturday night Mrs. Evans, the mother of the missing woman, and George Doner, of Fort Wayne, arrived in that city, and were busy making inquiries as to the probable whereabouts of the distressed person. Marshal Owston has been working on the case with some degree of success. It is now believed by the officers, mother and friends that Electa Horan did not take her own life but is still alive. One clue leading to this conclusion is the positive statement of Frank Clark, ticket agent at the Wabash depot, that a woman answering the description of that given Mrs. Horan, boarded the eastbound train Wednesday morning at 10:15 o'clock. The information in the Logansport Pharos on Wednesday, that Mrs. Horan was not seen to board the train, was not direct from the agent, but by telephone, and not reliable. It is almost certain that Electa did not do what she said she would in her letter, but went on the Wabash train to Peru. The Pharos reporter and Marshal Owston went down to Mrs. Rogers' home, on Direct street, and met Mrs. Evans. She appears a very pleasant lady, and feels much concern about the whereabouts of her daughter, but since later developments, feels confident that her daughter is still alive. Both she and Mrs. Rogers related their reason for believing that Mrs. Horan was in Peru.

To Whom It Concerns.

Some people have circulated a report that Mr. Mike Hibbert is back in the "Annex" house and even other people are named as interested in my business. These rumors are calculated to injure myself and Mr. Hibbert, and I do not propose to let them pass without rebuke. Mr. Hibbert or no other Fort Wayne man is interested in my business and I am under no obligation to say man in Fort Wayne for my new house of call. These matters are annoying and no one but an enemy will repeat them.

Truly yours,

It purifies the blood, strengthens the system, and gives new life and vigor to the entire body. 100 doses.
